THIS, OUR FINAL 1980 CATALOGUE, PRESENTS THE FRUITS OF A PROJECT ORIGINATED LAST FEBRUARY. This very broad selection of South and Central American coins was carefully assembled in order to prove a point to ourselves and our clients. You will discover on this and the following 17 pages an interesting, cohesive and yet extensive group of truly desirable coins that are affordable to just about any active collector. None are priced over $95. However, unlike the bulk of the coins listed in the average multi-page coin price list, every coin in this list has some special quality.

None are "junk-box" items. We would guess that at least 150-200 represent the nicest example of that particular item available anywhere on the world market and another 100 pieces are the only available example of a very scarce to rare item. Finally, please note that many of these pieces seem quite underpriced in relation to other currently advertised prices.

Our next price list is scheduled for March, 1981. We will handle an important Caribbean collection at auction in February and our annual feature auction will be in May, 1981. Please refer to page 2 of our Catalogue No. 55 if you have material you might consider consigning to this auction.

When you receive this list, our offices will already be closed for a short business trip through Texas including the N.I.C.E. convention in Dallas, Nov. 14-16. Upon reopening on November 17, we will fill orders by date of postmark. Our telephone answering service is available if you prefer.

(NOTE: Most of the foregoing forty-one pieces of 960 Reis, #68-108, were purchased by us in early February, 1980, priced that month and put aside for our next list. Now, as we prepare the copy for that "next list" eight months later, the prices seem disconcertingly low. We have seen pieces advertised in WORLD COIN NEWS at about double these levels. Has the market really changed that much? Only time will tell the true story.)
